

YOUR FREE CYBERSECURITY AWARENESS KIT Let's Raise Some Awareness, Shall We?

Human Error. A Pretty Big Deal.

Human error is one of the leading causes of security breaches and data loss. Multiple studies show that 90%+ of security breaches involve human error. And if you don't address human error head on, it's like you are leaving the key to your house dangling from a very expensive lock.

So how do you address human error? By changing employee behavior. By educating them on what the risks are, on what to look out for and what to do when faced with a potentially bad situation.

Our FREE Cybersecurity Awareness Kit

As a service to our broader community, We have put together this free cybersecurity awareness kit which features a few of our training videos, and educational flyers designed to raise your employees' cybersecurity awareness. The material covers some of the most common issues that cause employees to stumble and put your organization at risk.

A History of Keeping Organizations Like Yours Secure.

More than 30,000 organizations trust Mimecast to increase their cyber resilience preparedness, streamline compliance, reduce IT complexity and keep their business running. Now, with Mimecast Awareness Training, we can help you change your employees' behavior and dramatically lower your cyber risk.

What's Included:

- Training Videos
- 5 Educational Flyers Covering What The Threat Is And How To Respond

Topics Covered:

- Inadvertent Data Leaks
- Ransomware
- Wire Transfer Fraud
- Vishing
- Public WiFi

How to Use This Material

You can distribute this material electronically, host and promote it on your team's shared work space or print the fliers and post them around the office.